Chapter 1: On the Ascendant

Ascendant in Virgo:

Together, you are true thinkers by nature, you have very active, perhaps overactive minds. You will become "nervous nellys" and can worry about anything, anytime, anyplace. You are somewhat self centered though, and it would not be wise to criticize your fellow man. You will be very restless together, and need to always be on the go, exploring something new.

Stop looking for the flaws in everything you do, just because you are perfectionists doesn't mean you cannot lighten up some. Before you dismiss any project as one that you couldn't possibly do, give it a try, you'll never know until you can do together as a team.

Together you are tranquil and shy and are most content when you are working in the background of any organization rather than on the firing line. Because of this you would excel in any area where details need to be finished up. Jobs that would bore other people to death are fine with you, just as long as you can work in peace.

One drawback to this placement of Virgo is your ability to be pleased by other people or simply please each other. Why? Because your standards are naturally so high, people miss the mark, because they have no idea what to shoot for, or how. You can also be a slight pain in the butt when it comes to your choice of friends, clothing and especially food!

Any situation that involves quick responses will not find the two of you around in close proximity, because you approach everything cautiously while estimating any dangers involved or benefits that can be gained. Once you have evaluated it carefully and it is deemed reliable, you will then proceed. This is one of the reasons you don't fall into the abyss of despair together.

Your manners and mannerisms are always correct and above board. Your quiet and unemotional viewpoints are immediately apparent because you do not spread sympathy and caring although you may be. You come across ready for business and display a conservative approach to everything and everybody. You will draw people to you who need honest assessments of situations or special advice. This is your area of expertise together. You never miss anything that goes on in your environment whether at home or at the office and are always looking to learn something new. You are not overly determined, but if something crosses your path that prompts your curiosity, all the better. Look to the house where Mercury is located to see where your combined interests can be found.

Ascendant is in Virgo, Taurus Decanate

Ruled by the planet Venus, together you can become natural artists with no formal education. There will be an apparent loving and friendly nature that comes over you just by being together. To avoid total boredom, find an artistic or creative outlet. Any sort of routine will drive you crazy, so find a job where you can organize things and stay busy. Negativity that can manifest will be caused by complaining too much even though you are slow to mention it.

Chapter 2: On the Midheaven: How you are seen as a couple

Midheaven in Gemini:

Since this is the most "visible" part of the composite chart, it represents how you are actually seen in the world by others. It represents your more outward or public face and where you are likely to encounter success, and your reputation in the world as a couple. Your mutual goals together will include many ideas going at the same time. The only problem is determining what stage your projects are at, what pile you put them in, or what day it is. Otherwise you are sharp as a tack. Your minds are quick, alive, alert and inquisitive. You have the ability to absorb and learn very rapidly, but you get bored just as easily. The mind can become so scattered at times that you may forget where you are, or why. As long as anyone can keep your minds stimulated for more than an hour or so, they will have your complete although somewhat divided attention. People who are serious about life may not understand or appreciate your carefree nature. You possess a wonderful sense of humor and make fascinating conversationalists.

Your approach to people and situations stems from the mental plane, and any decisions in your life about love, domestic matters, business or social situations will be met with rational thought rather than emotional responses.

The tenth house is the home of worldly aspirations and attainment. This sector shows how you present yourself to the public, and deeds for which you leave behind as your legacy, or what you will be remembered for. The tenth has domain over the profession, public offices held, and your reputation. The combined energy of Gemini here, indicates that careers or professions that have to do with the written or spoken word is where you will put your combined energies, or areas where mental dexterity and practical thought is needed. Whatever you choose will be someplace where you can be active, communicative and with endless variety and challenges to keep you motivated. Working at least two jobs at the same time would be a must for the Gemini sign of duality. Look to the house where Mercury is located to see what kind of career you might choose, or how you will be remembered.

Chapter 3: Planets and Aspects

Sun in 5th house:

The Sun in the 5th house of love and sex indicates a very favorable relationship. There will be a strong emphasis on good times, pleasure, amusements, parties, speculation, gambling, creativity and children. Neither of you should have any problem feeling comfortable with each other or being yourselves around the other. You will really enjoy having some wonderful and memorable good times together. The drawback here is that it is not a good placement for partnerships or marriage, at least for the longevity of the relationship. Do not despair however, there may be other factors that provide this for you. The Sun located here does not harm a marriage or introduce difficulties per se, as this is more of a friendship position instead. Children will also be a very important issue for both of you as well. The Sun in the 5th house needs room to grow and to express itself and to breathe. If you don't give each other breathing room, then you may feel your self-expression is stifled, feeling hemmed in, needing to get away from the other. Don't make the mistake of trying to remake the other for their own good. Instead, go with the flow and let each other just be.

Sun Conjunct Venus

This aspect signifies that you just plainly love each other. The attraction is so strong between you that even though you may be incompatible by other standards, you still feel like being with your partner because of that love you feel for them. It's not that they won't occasionally drive you nuts - they will. It's just that the bottom line is that there is real love between you and there is no stronger emotion in the universe.

By being together you can create beauty and form as well as appreciate art and music. Your home can easily be filled with "treasures" that reflect the talents you have. But as always with Venus, be careful of overindulging in the good things of life so they do not become a noose around your neck instead of an object of desire. Remember, the more things you have, the more trouble you are likely to have. You will not mind showing off what you have accrued together, but vanity can become an undesired side effect of this aspect if it is not kept in check.

Avoid hiding any difficulties in your relationship and bring them out in the open so they can be resolved or at least recognized in order to avoid major problems down the road. You may also be drawn to speculative ventures with this aspect, so just remember to be practical in your expenditures.

With this configuration, no matter what difficulties come along to challenge you, you will always feel a need and desire to make peace, reconcile and create harmony and cooperation in your relationship. This aspect offers a great stability that will keep you from turning against each other, unless the obstacles become totally overwhelming.

A great deal of time and effort can be put into social activities and if you are involved in creative ventures together, then this aspect adds support and form to your ideas.

Sun Trine Asc.

Social activities are at the top of the list for the two of you. You are not likely to shun contact with others or want to be by yourselves. Instead, you will make a real effort to bring people you have a lot in common with into your relationship.

You make good friends for others and, in turn, draw them to you. If yours turns into a love relationship, not only will you be lovers, but you will have the luxury of being very special friends as well. There is likely to be a certain tenseness or restlessness within your relationship, but nothing that cannot be worked out. By all means, use this energy to seek out new experiences and adventures together, either at home or traveling to distant lands and cultures. Because of the energy of this aspect, you are sure to enjoy more experiences than most couples.

Moon in tenth house:

The Moon indicates our emotional needs. When located in the 10th house of career, the Moon indicates that these needs may be met through authority figures and career work. You share a common concern for moving ahead in life and feel that this can better be done as a couple rather than as single people. The image that you put forth to the public is important and you will do everything you can to bring this to the forefront in a positive way. Actually, this placement is a better indicator of a professional relationship than a personal one, as you will support each other's career efforts. But there is nothing unfavorable about this position in a personal relationship. The same emotional support will be there as well. Since the 10th house is the external world, a greater emphasis will be put on what the outer world sees in your relationship, perhaps leaving the inner working relationship short of expression and perhaps in need of a lot of work. Remember, this relationship is between the two of you, not the outside world and the two of you. When problems do arise in your relationship, don't make the mistake of blaming the outside world, your career or anything else you come up with for the shortcomings in your intimate relationship. The 10th house Moon position indicates a more active lifestyle and it will help prevent your relationship from growing old and stagnant.

Moon Opposition Jupiter

Over-optimism is the theme of this relationship. You inspire each other to live life to the fullest, but you can take on too much and overdo the luxuries of life, never realizing that there is a price to be paid for everything. The main theme of this aspect is to let go and have fun, live it up and go for the gusto. But just because you are enjoying yourself so much, do not ignore the problems that all couples have. Ignoring them will not make them go away.

After all is said and done, people will marvel at the seemingly miraculous good luck and good fortune that always seem to come your way. There is an evident streak of good luck that seems to happen when you are together.

Your home is apt to be large, well-furnished and comfortable, and everyone that comes there will appreciate your warmth and generosity. One of the drawbacks that can occur here, though, is becoming too comfortable, not appreciating the blessings you have and taking everything for granted.

Use caution that you don't become so comfortable that you mismanage your funds, overspend and get in over your heads with debt. The two of you do have a tendency to be overly extravagant.

Moon Semisextile Mars

Together you will be impulsive, yet controlled for the most part, with an abundance of "sizzle" to last through any cold winter's night. There will be an aggressive quality to your relationship, and even though for the most part it is warm, very passionate and emotional, at times it can be too hot to handle. Heated arguments will not be hard to find, but making up can be lots of fun! This is sure to be a very tense, direct and focused relationship where from time to time, you will need to let off steam through verbal and physical expression. You make a wonderful team together for going out and conquering the world.

There is an abundance of energy here and you do things with great flair, usually on the spur of the moment. Be sure to go out and find constructive outlets for your energy so that you do not turn it negatively towards each other. Play and work together and allow each other to fully express themselves.

Mercury in 5th house:

Mercury is the planet of intellectual thought and communication and with Mercury in the 5th house, a lot of time will be spent planning and executing jaunts to the movies, opera, plays, concerts and reading. There is a real common interest for the two of you and you will enjoy hours talking together. Since Mercury in the 5th also rules the education and rearing of children, you will take more than a mild interest to see they have all the opportunities they should have and to surround them with influences that will help them to grow and learn. Remember to nurture their emotional side as well, as all work and no play can make anyone unhappy. Part of what attracted the two of you in the first place was your shared intellectual interests and this placement indicates a more than average compatibility.

Mercury Opposition Pluto

Communication may be centered on digging out the truth in each other's life and uncovering things about the other you would not dream to tell anyone else. You will cause each other to transform thoughts, feelings, beliefs and desires that have been buried for a very long time. This relationship will also have you questioning things that up until now were better off left alone. Because of this potent power you must be careful of manipulating your partner for your own purposes or trying to control their life and the way they think. Do not use the power of this aspect for psychological manipulation, brainwashing or for taking advantage of your partner's weaknesses and vulnerabilities.

Together you may choose to delve into the occult or to use the power of mind over matter. Just make sure the dark side does not win you over. If you get carried away in any of these areas, people may perceive you as a threat and bring danger to you. Should you heed the above warnings, then you can gain some very important truths about life, the universe and yourselves.

Mercury Trine Mars

Right from the start you may have noticed that heated debates and arguments are sexual turn-ons for you and your partner. There seems to be no end to the ways you challenge each other's thinking and you love to compete on how much you know intellectually. A wonderful playfulness emerges from these conversations and if one thing leads to another, then so much the better. One thing is for sure, you will never be at a loss for words when you are around each other.

Your communication will be very open, direct and frank, and very little of your opinion will be withheld from the other. If you believe that there are times when a little white lie will help spare hurt to your partner's feelings, then you'd better learn to forget it. That won't happen here. At least try to sugar coat it a little bit so you are not quite so offensive.

Mercury Trine Neptune

Your relationship is sure to be filled with fantasy, imagination and artistic, poetic or musical abilities or qualities. If you are looking for a totally practical, logical and organized relationship, then you have not found it here. Others are more likely to find you both staring at the ceiling, pondering the mysteries of the universe or lost in a dream world that only the two of you know about. There will be strong telepathic or non-verbal communication between you that only the two of you can hear or understand.

Your conversations may be focused on spiritual or metaphysical ideas. You will talk about your dreams and your ideals of what a perfect world would be like. The danger with this aspect, though, is that you need to be very honest with each other to avoid the possibility of misunderstanding, deception or illusion. The fantasy of your relationship is likely to be wonderful, but you need to come down to earth and take a look at the reality of it. You may be treating your partner as the person they are in your head rather than the person they really are reality. When the picture in your imagination falls off the pedestal, then a great deal of disappointment and disillusion can occur. This can wreck havoc on your relationship. You must be very clear with your partner as to your expectations and goals of your relationship. The more straight-forward and honest you can be, the better.

Another positive of this aspect is that you may share common interest in healing techniques, charitable work, or religious concerns. These activities can help bring the two of you closer together.

Mercury Sesquiquadrate Uranus

If you are looking for a relationship to uproot your pattern of thinking, mix in a little adventure, and experiment in the mind-blowing side of weird, then congratulations, you may have found it. New ideas, alternative ways of thinking, changing old patterns of thought and just plain bizarre behavior tend to go along with this aspect. Expect the unconventional and the ever-changing, frequently and suddenly.

Trying to communicate in stereo can't happen so you will have to stop talking while the other person is talking so you don't miss their train of thought. There is much nervous energy surrounding you both and together you can come up with some wonderful new ideas, perhaps far ahead of their time, and enjoy some excellent creative adventures together. But plan on taking a break from one another from time to time in order to repair your burned out brain cells and get some sanity back into your lives. There is so much stimulation and mental excitement between you that it may be difficult for you to settle down to the routine, everyday aspects and needs of your relationship. Because a certain amount of restlessness and anxiety go along with this aspect, you will need time to recuperate. So take it, even if it means getting away from each other at times.

A serious side to this aspect is that the two of you may constantly challenge and disagree with your partner's viewpoint just for the sake of causing a commotion. At first this can be great fun and very exciting. But in the long run it may become very old and when one or the other of you tire of it, it may be too late to do anything about it because your partner will have already up and left. The two of you need to control the tendency of automatically disagreeing with the other's viewpoint in order to keep some stability in the relationship.

Venus in 5th house:

Venus is the planet of love, warmth and affection. With Venus located in the 5th house of love, children and creativity, it is a natural that you will enjoy doing things together and want to be together. There will be a great love of sex, pleasure, beauty, going out to dinner or theater and generally surrounding yourselves with beautiful people. Venus in the 5th is so light-hearted and fun-loving that your relationship may not have the stamina for long-termed, committed, practical and serious day-to-day living. How can you be serious when you are having so much fun??? If you can realize and overcome this flaw, then you should have a very nice life together. Should you be married and have children of your own, you will nurture and love them very much and enjoy a lot of warmth and affection with and through them.

Venus Trine Mars

Yours is likely a very passionate and affectionate relationship and this aspect will help strengthen the bond between you. The intensity that you feel as a couple cannot be ignored and if you think you are just going to be friends, without any intimate contact, then you may need to think again. No matter how much you try to deny the powerful attraction, the sexual energy will remain, and the urge to merge will be overwhelming.

Your feelings will always have a high degree of sizzle and this should keep you warm on a cold night and should not fade over time. This will not be a "ships that pass in the night" relationship and, should other indicators in your chart signal any difficulties, this will add fuel to the high intensity fire. You will have to look elsewhere in the chart for intellectual and emotional togetherness, but as for the physical side, it's a definite go!

This aspect does indicate that the two of you are very complementary. In other words, one of you is strong where the other is weak and vice-versa. This is very positive no matter what sort of relationship you have.

Venus Trine Asc.

This is a wonderful aspect for love, for each of you accepts the other for who they are, but with no demands that are impossible to live up to. You will be very tolerant of each other's faults and you will leave each other alone rather than stick around and rub your partner the wrong way. You have good feelings for each other and it rubs off on other people in your environment. Good times through parties, nightclubs or any amusements are sure to be shared and enjoyed. One or both of you may have some acting or artistic ability or be involved somehow in the arts. This is a very good indication of a positive relationship.

Mars in 9th house:

Mars is the planet of fire, activity and aggressiveness. Mars in the 9th house indicates a strong need to share ideas, philosophies and beliefs. If your ideas are compatible, you will protect them dearly, while trying to convince others to see your point of view. If however, your ideas oppose each other, then you will spend a lot of time arguing. Trying to convince others to accept your beliefs will be met with great resistance. Mars here indicates traveling together extensively, but to be on the safe side, you should exercise caution regarding any and all modes of transportation. Mars also indicates working together in educational or intellectual endeavors as well.

Jupiter in 4th house:

With Jupiter in the 4th house, the home will be of primary importance. Wherever you live is likely to be very comfortable and secure, and since Jupiter rules expansion, your residence could be larger than normal as well, or will be at some point. Any place where you can feel at home, entertain and socialize in style will be to your liking. You are much more likely to be more generous to people around you with Jupiter here, and take more of a caring or nurturing role for anyone who comes along. With Jupiter in the 4th, you can always rely on each other for support, making this a very fortunate placement. You may also own property together. This is an excellent indicator of wealth as well as an indicator of a secure relationship.

Saturn in 11th house:

Saturn in the 11th house of friendship can bring difficulties as Saturn is not a particularly friendly planet, but is rather cold and reserved. Saturn puts a damper on your expression as a couple, so relating to each other in an intimate way will either require patience and a lot of hard work or it may not happen at all. This expression of energy also relates to friends outside your relationship and to groups, your hopes and wishes, and to humanitarian efforts as well. With all of this said, however, Saturn here can make yours a very enduring relationship, even though it might lack warmth and deep displays of affection. Long-lasting friendships are also indicated by this placement. Saturn in the house of goals and wishes can indicate that you do not view life or your objectives in the same way. This may tend to reduce the sympathy you have for each other's efforts, thus bringing difficulties into your relationship. There may be fewer outside friends, yet more enduring friendships, probably with those older or more mature than yourselves. If you are experiencing the negative side of Saturn here, then friends may be denied altogether because of rigid attitudes that prevent you from sharing with others.

Saturn Sextile Uranus

For the two of you this configuration supports a very nice, secure, stable and structured environment in which you can both thrive. You can expect changes from time to time, but nothing that is going to rock the boat to the point of tipping it over. You will enjoy friends that are stable and some that are somewhat far out and you won't have any problem fitting in with either. You should be able to pursue joint projects with unending fervor and bring them to a successful conclusion. There is a nice blending of energies here that lends support for the other, without infringing on the other's space. This is one indication of a long, content and interesting life together.

Saturn Semisquare Neptune

Yours may not be a very positive relationship, instead it may be fraught with confusion, deception and instability. You may find that you cannot rely on each other in time of need or support. This stems from the fact that you have difficulty deciding what your relationship is all about. There will seem to be a bond that puts you together, yet through your interaction you will discover the weaknesses, fears, insecurities and inadequacies the two of you have as a couple, even if you do not have these qualities as individuals. You may feel that you are controlled, manipulated and exploited. There may be self-doubts, even if you never experienced them before. If there are enough positive aspects elsewhere to counter this negativity, then this aspect can be helpful in finding out about yourself. If not, then you may need to reconsider your relationship carefully. You may even have to move on. This relationship is going to challenge everything you believe, both materially and spiritually, and you will have to back up your ideals or let them go. Deception may be a big part of your relationship, whether intended or not. Confusion may enter the picture as well. There may be a constant battle in knowing what is real and what is not. Unless honesty is adhered to, mistrust may be the underlying factor in the relationship's end.

Uranus in 9th house:

Uranus is the master of instability, uncertainty, wacky and impulsive thinking and actions, and freedom. Uranus in the 9th house indicates that your relationship will face challenges in the way you view the world. Whatever preconceived notions you had before you came into your relationship, they will ultimately be changed as a result of your being together. In the early stages of your relationship you may have had constant disagreements about your personal views of life. Try to understand that this challenge in many ways is freeing you from old thought patterns introduced since childhood, and by challenging them, you can refine or change them for the better. If as a couple you cannot accept this, then the areas of philosophy, metaphysical theory, higher thinking, religion and spiritual values will be a very disruptive force in your lives together. Should you be able to put your egos off to the side and work as a team for the common goal of truth, then this will be a very favorable relationship, even if there are more than a fair share of disruptions.

Uranus Square Asc.

Since this aspect is such a strong one, it will have a great effect on your lives together. No doubt this relationship will open you up to many new, exciting and unstable experiences. Uranus loves to upset the apple cart of anything he touches, so any changes experienced here will be sudden, out-of-the-blue and potentially very challenging to all your basic ideas of what life is all about. The way you will tend to react to all of these changes depends on how you grew up and how you functioned before you came together. If you are more rigid and structured, then the changes will be difficult as Uranus will attempt to break the mold of the past and form a new one. Unfortunately, Uranus never asks permission, so the changes here may be quite unnerving.

When you first met, you may have noticed vast differences in your backgrounds. Or perhaps you just constantly challenged each other and you liked the thrills that brought. Look carefully at the challenges, though, and see if they aren't just rebellion in disguise. If you are looking for stability in a relationship, then this one may not be the one for you because Uranus loves to upset life in any way possible.

The great amount of restlessness that is probably within your relationship may be too much for either of you to handle. If this relationship is to have any chance of success, then you must give each other a lot of freedom and room to breathe. Allow yourselves to go with the flow and to follow the relationship's own natural course. Or let it go!

You may also find that outside factors or people provide unstable conditions for you so that you cannot be comfortable together or without incident. Uranus here indicates that you may be coming from two entirely different directions in life and this may be providing difficulty right from the beginning. Question why you are in this relationship. Are you rebelling against the world, your parents or other factors? If so, then this may not be the relationship for you.

Neptune in 1st house:

Neptune is the planet of deception and illusion, and with Neptune in the 1st house, great care must be utilized to see the relationship for what it "really" is. Both of you will see the relationship from different perspectives and you need to be very clear with each other to avoid misunderstandings. One of you may have a very utopian view of the relationship while the other is not coming from the same cloud you are. One person may be very happy here and the other may not, and one morning you will wake up to the realities of it.

There are two very distinct possibilities in this relationship. On the positive side, this can be a very spiritual, and humanitarian relationship filled with psychic and mystical overtones, or on the negative side very deceptive, spacey and a total illusion. The master of deception and illusion resides here, and it will be up to you to decipher what is, and what is not real. Since all liquids and drugs are represented by this position, there will be a weakness towards drugs and alcohol if not kept in check. On the other hand, one or both of you may have very real drug or alcohol problems to contend with or be in a program of rehabilitation.

Avoid putting yourself in a position of trying to "save" or sacrifice for the other for their own good, as this is another "illusion" of Neptune. You must work very hard at keeping this a very realistic and honest relationship. Get off the high cloud you are on - before you fall!

Neptune Sextile Pluto

Matters of spirituality, psychic awareness or communication, supernatural forces and mind-reading will be very strong interests in your lives and it may be impossible to deny or to get away from them. There may be times that you can actually hear what the other person is thinking without ever having to say anything. You might decide to play the role of psychic detectives, uncovering mysteries or hidden things. You enjoy anything that has to do with mind expansion or mind alteration.

Pluto in 11th house:

Pluto has rulership over death and rebirth, regeneration, power, extremes, fanatical behavior and obsession. When located in the 11th house, it indicates that you will work very hard together in order to reach your goals and ideals. As a team you can accomplish anything you desire, while at the same time you can defend each other from unwanted outsiders. Yours is an intense attraction which draws other people to you and they are likely to be very intense as well. This power can be either on the material plane, as in business or politics, or it can be personal power such as an intense aura that radiates from them. Pluto is very secretive and your friends may be powerful people who are not generally known by the outside world, but people who work behind the scenes in some way. Pluto in the 11th house also indicates intense efforts in humanitarian pursuits that can change the world through mass movements or revolutionary designs. Pluto here can have a transforming effect on your friendships and the ways in which you and others interact.

Pluto Semisquare Asc.

Yours is likely a very strong and powerful relationship. There are powerful forces here that can work in either positive or negative ways. Pluto is the planet of death and regeneration and as such, he will bring many changes into your lives. Many things will be brought about and brought to light, things and actions you didn't even know you were capable of. At the very least this relationship may place you upon a much different path than you may have expected and any experiences within your relationship will be much more intense than ever before. One of the effects of a Pluto-based relationship is an intense fascination for each other that overrides all other interests or considerations in your life. This fascination and obsession can be one that has you going down a path of destruction, so you need to be very careful in this regard. There can also be tremendous power struggles within your relationship where one partner is much more dominant than the other and the second partner feels as though they have no will of their own. Under this manifestation of Pluto, the relationship may "self-destruct" when one tries to break free from the other, the result being a very difficult and bitter breakup.

Chapter 4: MIDPOINTS - Additional Influences on Relationship Potential

Venus Conjunct Sun/Mercury Orb:1 Deg 02 Min

Love takes form through poetry and writing; sexuality is aroused through sensual perceptions; love may be defined by the intellectual process; together you can effectively share ideas by using a softer approach.

Neptune Opposition Sun/Uranus Orb:1 Deg 41 Min

Relationships are sensitive, and should be handled very carefully; your ego's can develop plans for personal recognition which will prove to be a delusion; neglecting each other.

Mars Opposition Sun/Neptune Orb:1 Deg 37 Min

Unethical and immoral methods may be applied to satisfy the ego in this relationship; irresistible qualities enter your life, and sexual awareness is present; weak sexual abilities that can easily get in the way of this relationship; putting schemes into reality; creative visualizations.

Chapter 5: Other Issues in Your Relationship

Libra on 2nd house cusp

As a couple with Libra on the cusp of the second house, there is more of an emphasis on material affairs. Libra suggests the accumulation of money and possessions is dependent on ventures with a partner, normally the marriage partner. There is a love of luxury with Venus here, and a willingness to spend for pleasures and social activities. You will buy items made of the highest quality and finest workmanship. Most of the time the two of you are more frugal and won't waste anything. As a couple you will excel at making the check book work out right, balancing the books, and make to save a good amount of your check for that special purchase. Make sure to look at the house that Venus is located in to find out where money can be found in your lives.

Scorpio on 3rd house cusp

With Scorpio on the cusp of the third house of communication and learning, together you have some very fixed ideas and attitudes toward matters of communication, the thought process and learning. Together, you have an obsessive quest and thirst for knowledge, and once you have learned it, it will not be forgotten. You have very fixed opinions about everything, and you can be quite critical of people who don't see things your way. Not only can there be friction between the two of you because of this, but with family, friends, neighbors and the public. Demanding anything is not the way to go to win people over to your side, but I doubt that with Scorpio/Mars/Pluto here, you really care. Since Scorpio is the sign of secrets, you can easily keep secrets from yourselves, family, friends and neighbors. Look to the house where Mars/Pluto reside, to see where your interests can be found.

Sagittarius on 4th house cusp

With Sagittarius on the fourth house of the home, family, roots, real estate, property and security, the two of you will want to have a firm hand on controlling the family environment. With Sagittarius here, there is a strong desire for a roomy and spacious home, a place that naturally draws good luck and good fortune to it. The home may be located in a foreign country or foreign to the environment you grew up in. Since Sagittarius relates to spiritual and religious issues, you may use the home as a place of meditation or group meetings. Look to the house where Jupiter is located to see where your home security can be found.

Capricorn on 5th house cusp

As a couple, you have Capricorn on the fifth house of Children, recreation, romance and creativity, artistic abilities, hobbies, writing books (creatively), speculation and investments. The two of you are more practical and hard workers, concerned with and good with details of all kind. Everything you do together is planned out in great detail, and in rearing children you are tough disciplinarians. In your romantic area together, passion is cool, calm, restricted or non-existent. Together you are highly sexed, but unable to show it. Obligations to children are very strong, and they will be put in front of any needs you may have individually. In the area of speculation, you don't! In investments you will stay within guidelines that help you prepare for a secure future together. You may be happiest working full time, and taking your job on vacation with you. Together you will accumulated as much wealth as possible rather than wasting it. Look to the house where Saturn is located to see where you might find your recreation and romance potential.

Aquarius on 6th house cusp

The two of you have Aquarius on the cusp of the sixth house of Work, Work environment, responsibilities, health, work and service for others, relationships with employees and co-workers, and your interest in physical fitness. The two of you need an adventure or something totally unique in work, service and health. New age revelations, science, breakthroughs in technology, computers, music and a laid back atmosphere. You make great friends to each other and co-workers, remaining a bit cool and detached, working your best within the structure of groups. As a couple your nerves and nervous system are a bit fragile and need special attention. Look to the house where Uranus is located to see where you might find work or service to others.

Pisces on 7th house cusp

Relationships, partnerships, marriage, people you have close associations with, cooperation or lack of, contracts, and legal matters are all part of the seventh house, and Pisces is located here. The two of you may experience difficulties in this relationship because you will not find relating to each other an easy thing to do. In a lot of instances where Pisces is on the seventh house, a single lifestyle is more accommodating for the both of you. Many sacrifices will be made in this relationship, and seeing it with clear vision will be difficult. You may both have difficulties in getting involved because of the real or imagined let downs that relationships can sometimes bring with them. Look to the house that contains Neptune to see how you will deal with partnerships.

Aries on 8th house cusp

The eighth house deals with joint resources. Possessions that are not earned directly by you, but obtained through the relationship, wills, or pensions. It also has to do with money belonging to others such as taxes, corporate money, insurance, and the stock market. The eighth house also relates to the mysteries of life and sex. Aries will have an influence on the above matters in this relationship by bringing disagreements and arguments about how money should be spent, and what it should be spent on. Each of you will hold strongly to what you believe in, which is going to make it difficult making monthly payments on anything. Should any money come in from wills and legacies, there will be disputes about them as well. The physical side of this relationship will be very hot, hot, hot, aggressive and maybe too physical! Look to see which house Mars is located in, to see where your joint money can be found.

Taurus on 9th house cusp

The ninth house is the house of long range goals and long distance travel. Religion, philosophy and higher education are ninth house matters. With Taurus ruling the ninth house, the two of you will be stick more with traditional values in religious matters than going off in new age directions. Teaching of these values can give an additional indication of where you can be effective together. With Venus being the ruler of the ninth house, travel, pleasures, relaxation, enjoyment and education the theme of this relationship. You may live a great distance from your native homes together. Look to the house where Venus is located to see where your interests in higher aspirations can be found.

Cancer on 11th house cusp

The eleventh house has domain over achievement of goals and objectives, and hopes and wishes. Humanitarian efforts, clubs, groups, associations, sharing ideals are also associated with the eleventh house. People that support your efforts, friends and connections to the outside world can be found in this house. With Cancer located in the eleventh house, the focus of this relationship turns to social activities, informal in nature centered around the home. Small animals and pets will be very important to you both, and can work with organizations that support animals, children or underprivileged. You will be very protective and nurturing towards each other and to the friends that you associate with. Look to the house where the Moon is located to see where you might find your friends, associations and group involvements and interests.

Leo on 12th house cusp

The twelfth house rules the subconscious mind, problems arising from unseen causes, and limitations in our lives. This house has rulership over behind the scenes activities, emotional problems, secrets, deceptions, problems to overcome, the side of ourselves away from public view, where the soul can step back and take a look at the world around us. The twelfth house also has rulership over prisons, hospitals, and other institutions that would remove you from society. Leo energy on the twelfth house for you both indicates that you operate life from behind the scenes, the power behind the throne. It takes the dominating side of Leo, and represses it. With Leo here, you will spend a great deal of time by yourselves. Look to the house where the Sun is located to find that area in which you retire from public view.
